

Invitation to the SimTech PhD Weekend 2014

October 10 – 12, 2014

Burg Rothenfels

Dear fellow PhD students,
we the SimTech PhD spokes persons would like to invite you to the fifth SimTech PhD weekend.

Program

At the PhD weekend, you will get the chance to get more in touch with other SimTech PhD students during group work and discussions. Our focus lies on the topic of interdisciplinary working. We want to discuss your understanding and experience with multidisciplinary and why it is not always easy to work with people from other disciplines. A guest speaker will help us to reflect on the topic and to train our skills in finding a common language talking to other parties of our projects and the SimTech cluster. This will hopefully improve our interactions with people having different backgrounds. The weekend will count as a SimTech soft skill seminar.

Social

Of course, social aspects are also important. Therefore we plan to go for a walk and in the evenings, there will be time for board games, a beer in a pub, or some chats.

Costs

Bus transfer to Rothenfels, accommodation in the youth hostel, meals, and workshops will be kindly provided by SimTech. Beverages will be at your own expense.

Schedule

Friday, October 10, 1 pm departure from the University (Schleife)
Sunday, October 12, early evening return to University
